MANAGE MAILING EXPENSES WITH POSTAL ACCOUNTANT

The rising cost of postage and mail-related expenses are having a growing impact on your organization's bottom line. Now more than ever it is critical that you efficiently manage your mailroom activities and accurately charge out and recover mailing costs. One of the best ways to accomplish this is to be able to quickly retrieve a detailed breakdown of all your mailing costs.

Postal Accountant from Hasler does just that...especially for users with multiple mailing machines. With data gathering and consolidation capabilities unmatched in the industry, it efficiently collects information from your mailing systems to accurately account for all your postal activities and expenses. But it's much more.

Key Benefits of Postal Accountant:

- Affordable... low acquisition costs
- Convenient... shared across your network – access data via any network computer
- User Friendly... no special training required
- Accurate... fast, updated data collection direct from mailing systems
- Versatile... collects and consolidates data from multiple mailing systems
- Efficient... print, export or view reports

POSTALACCOUNTANT

Innovative Design and Capability

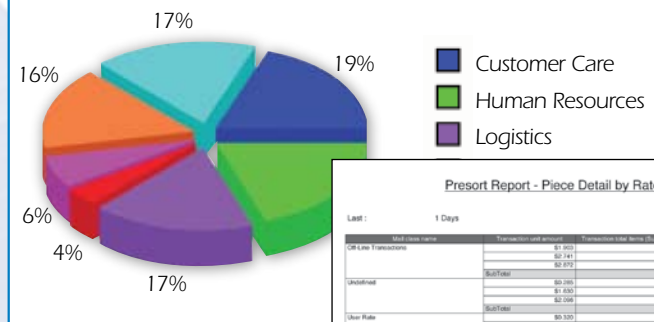

Postal Accountant is a browser-based system that uses a single PC to collect data from a variety of mailing systems, all communicating concurrently with a single data collector. And conveniently, the technology permits remote PCs to view the system, inquire about status, and create and print reports. Supervisors can view and manage the system right from their desktop.

INSTANTLY VIEW STATUS, AVAILABLE FUNDS, AND JOB PROGRESS FROM ANY NETWORK COMPUTER

Pre-Sort Efficiency

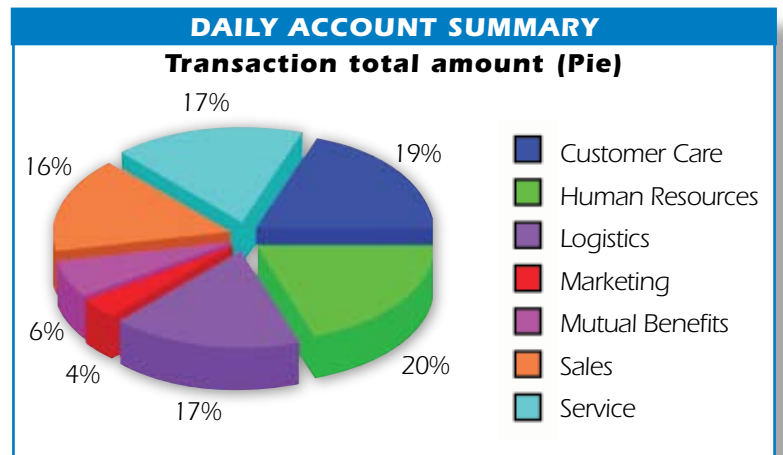

There is a growing trend towards mailers using pre-sorting programs from the USPS in order to reduce postage costs. However, pre-sorting is both manual and time consuming. But with Postal Accountant, a few clicks on your PC will allow you to deliver a complete set of pre-sort reports that are required by mail houses.

ITEMIZED PRESORT REPORT BY RATE

Always Being Prepared

Today's competitive environment requires that your mailroom have the ability to accurately forecast and report operational expenses, cost recovery periods, and pre-sort requirements. Postal Accountant collects data from all your mailing systems, including postage expenditures, department usage, and where processing costs should be allocated. It's designed to help you identify ways to reduce costs, improve efficiencies, and increase productivity.
